Wellness Retreat Program

Suuko Wellness Retreat Programs aim to renew your holistic health with the wisdom of Traditional Thai Medicine, Thai heritage for optimal health, happiness and longevity.

Your wellness goal will be achieved through a combination of traditional Thai treatments selected and customized as suitable for you, daily healthy cuisine with dishes tailored to suit your body's requirement, as well as gentle exercise

The day of your arrival begins with an initial holistic consultation, a comprehensive examination and diagnosis by our traditional Thai medicine doctor. Your first day will end with a full-body detox massage using prescribed life-force balancing herbal aromatic oil to balance your bio-energies and sooth your soul.

Before every treatment session each day, our traditional Thai medicine doctor will reassess your condition and progress to tailor the details of the booked wellness treatments, meals and the exercise that day to be the best for you.

The program schedule allows flexibility and time for you to enjoy your spacious balcony, our beautiful infinity pool while resting up from your treatments, as well as time to explore Phuket's beaches and various cultural and culinary offerings.

Staying at Suuko gives time and space to unwind and prioritize your self-care, and to experience self-love.

Your Wellness Retreat Journey

Before your arrival at Suuko Wellness & Spa Resort

- After the completion of your booking our team will reach out to request for more information on your food allergies and schedule preferences to help best tailor your selected wellness retreat for you.

Arrival at Suuko Wellness & Spa Resort

About The Treatments

During the initial stages of traditional treatment, Thai practitioners start with “Ru (remove)” and “Lom (protect)”, followed by “Rak-sa(cure)”.

“Ru” to remove or cleanse out the toxins or excess life-forces. (bio-energies).

“Lom” to protect or contain the toxins flushed out so that they do not overwhelm the body and to minimize ‘healing crisis’, as the body works to flush these toxins out of the systems. “Lom” will also help to reinvigorate the body’s immune system and capacity for repair and renewal.

“Ru” and “Lom” combine to be the perfect cleansing technique, efficiently and safely drawing toxins out of the body.

“Rak-sa” is to cure, to actively assist the body in its repair and renewal.

Traditional detoxifying treatments in Traditional Thai Detox Retreat are gentle non-invasive processes of “Ru” and “Lom” which are able to meet your various unique detox objectives exactly where you are in terms of health.

This detoxification is both preventive and curative care to reinvigorate the body’s immune system and its capacity for repair and renewal, bringing back the optimum health and well-being.

Treatment aims:

- Cleanses excess toxins and fluid accumulations.
- Clears any blockage along the energy lines.
- Stimulates the flow of blood, lymph, nerve impulse and energy.
- Promotes oxygen supply and toxin removal.
- Improve digestion.
- Eases physical and emotional stress and tension.
- Calms and strengthens the nervous system.
